No. FK/1/57.—The following letter No. TM/51B/56/1389-1416, dated the 26th June, 1957 along with a set of instruction issued by the Accountant General, Assam, Shillong is published for general information.

Assistant Secretary (Finance) Manipur
Administration.

Subject :—FESTIVAL ADVANCE.

I have to invite a reference to the Govt. of India, Ministry of Finance, letter No. F. 16(10-E. 11(A)/56, dated the 24th Sept., 1956 sanctioning advance of pay to Central Government servants on the eve of important festivals and to state that considering the volume of transactions relating to "Festival Advances", the Comptroller & Auditor General has since authorised the opening of a detailed head "Festival Advances" under "Civil Advances" to accommodate the transactions relating to above advances, as against the detailed head 'Objection book advances'. It has also been decided that the accounts of these advances will be maintained by this office in respect of each bill drawn the amount of the bill being shown as an amount outstanding against the drawing officer concerned.

To implement the above decisions a set of instructions for the guidance of the drawing officers framed by this office is enclosed herewith for the issue of necessary instructions to all the subordinate officers under you and notifying the same in the Gazette.

The action taken may kindly be intimated.

In this office Notification No. TM 51/55/57, dated 4.10.56, instructions were issued regarding the drawal and the recovery of Festival advances. Since, then a procedure for maintaining the accounts of these advances in this office has been evolved necessitating the issuing of the following further instructions for the guidance of all drawing officers :

- (i) "Festival Advance" should be drawn by the drawing officers under the same service major, minor and detailed head to which the pay of the officer is debited. The words "Festival Advance" should, however, be written conspicuously in red ink in the space provided for classification in the bill. It should be treated like advance of pay and not included in the progressive expenditure under "Pay of Estt." as the case may be, of the Department concerned. The recovery of the advance should, however be watched through a Subsidiary register.
- (ii) The claims for Festival Advances should not be drawn in separate bills for each individual, but each drawing officer should draw only one bill for such establishment for which separate pay bill is drawn.
- (iii) It has been decided not to keep the accounts of these advances against individuals. But these will be treated as advances given to the Departmental officer concerned, and so recovery will be watched against drawals made against individual bills ; so while submitting the schedule of recovery along with the pay bill concerned, each drawing officer should indicate the number, date and amount of the bill in which the advance was originally drawn in the Schedule of recovery. At the end, in the Schedule, an abstract should also be prepared indicating the total recoveries made against each bill of drawal of Advance.

MANIPUR STATE TRANSPORT DEPARTMENT.

STANDING ORDER No. 17. Imphal, the 19th February, 1957.

It appears that various amounts yet remained to be recovered from the Private Parties and Govt. Officials on account of services rendered to them by the M. S. T. Dept., and these amounts are still outstanding in the books of this Department since long. This is quite irregular and seriously objected to by the Audit.

It is therefore decided in order to avoid correspondence for the realisation of outstanding amounts on this account and so also to avoid loss, the practice of lending services for conveyance and transportation of goods etc on credit to the Private Parties including the Govt. Officials who apply for any service in private capacity from the M. S. T. Dept. will be discontinued forthwith unless there is a standing agreement with a particular private party under the orders of the Administration.

Officer on Special Duty,

Subject :—MULTI-UNIT COOPERATIVE SOCIETIES ACT, 1942 AMENDMENT OF.

I am directed to say that the Government of India has under consideration the proposal for amending the Multi-Unit Co-operative Societies Act, 1942, so as to make it applicable to the whole of Indian Union.

2. The Multi-Unit Co-operative Societies Act is an Act to provide for the incorporation, regulation and winding up of Co-operative Societies with objects not confined to one State. At the time of the passing of the Act there were a few societies registered in particular states which has extended their activities to other States also. These societies had to be validated and future societies with similar activities had also to be given recognition under Law. The Multi-Unit-Act was, therefore, passed in order to cover such societies. The Act does not provide for registration of such societies, but has made the provision that a society registered in a State under the Law relating to Co-operative Societies in force in that State shall be deemed to be so registered in any other State to which its objects extend (Vide section 3(1) of the Act). This Clause covered the needs of all India Societies and separate registration under the Multi-Unit Act is not, therefore, provided for.

3. The Multi-Unit Act as it stood then did not extend to Part 'B' and all the Part 'C' States as Clause 1(2) of the Act restricted its application to what was British India.

4. Co-operative Societies with objects extending over more than one State are now being formed in Part 'B' and Part 'C' States, like societies of the Posts and Telegraph Railway workers, National Co-operative Union of Railway workers, etc etc. It, therefore, became necessary to amend this Clause so as to make the Act applicable to those States as well.

5. Parliamentary legislation relating to entry 44 of the Union list in this behalf has already been undertaken and Clause 1 (2) of the Act has been amended to read as follows :—

"It extends to the whole of India except the State of Jammu & Kashmir". The State of Jammu and Kashmir has to be excluded because entry 44 of the Union list is not included in the Constitution (Application to Jammu and Kashmir) order, 1954.

6. The above amendment has been published as the "Multi-Unit Co-operative Societies (Amendment) Act 1956 (24 of 1956)" in the Gazette of India Extraordinary, Part II section 1, dated the 28th August, 1956.

7. I am to add in this connection that the reorganisation of States from the 1st November, 1956, will not in any way affect the working of this Act.

8. I am to request that the amendment may kindly be given wide publicity in your State for the information of Co-operative Societies.

PRESS NOTE

GROWTH OF UNRECOGNISED MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS STUDENTS WARNED AGAINST ADMISSION.

In recent years a number of new medical colleges have been opened, including a few by private and non-official agencies. For the general information of persons seeking admission to medical colleges, the position in respect of recognition of degrees by the Government of India is as follows:—

A medical college is a very expensive proposition. It has to fulfil certain standards prescribed by the Medical Council of India. For this purpose the college must be adequately equipped with and must have an adequate laboratory, research and hospital facilities and last, but by no means least, employ fully qualified teaching staff. Students studying in ill-equipped colleges with unqualified staff do not obtain the necessary experience and training required for a medical graduate.

It is not enough that a medical college is approved by a university for instruction in a medical science. The degrees obtained by instruction in a medical institution have to be recognised by the Government of India and included in the first schedule to the Indian Medical Council Act, 1933, so that students passing out of such colleges will be entitled for registration and inclusion in the Indian Medical Register.

The Medical Council of India sends inspectors and visitors to examine whether the instruction, training and examination provided in medical institutions are up to the required standard. The Council thereafter makes recommendation to the Government of India who after examining these recommendations decide the question of recognition of degrees of pupils passing out of various medical colleges.

On a number of occasions it has been found that, even in medical colleges started by Government due to non-availability or non-provision of proper equipment, hospital facilities etc., the first one or two batches of students passing out of such colleges are below standard and before the degrees of such students are recognised they have been made to complete their training by additional clinical experience, additional classes etc.

Private organisations and individuals who want to open medical colleges should therefore consult the Government of India in the matter and find out details of hospital, research and laboratory facilities, equipment, accommodation, etc., required and of the essential qualifications which the teaching staff should possess, so that the medical colleges started by them will at least possess minimum standards. Finally, they should ensure the availability of sufficient funds before venturing on such projects.

The students seeking admission to private medical institutions are advised in their own interest, that before they think of entering such medical colleges, they should find out whether a college newly started has been approved by a University and whether the Government of India will recognise the degrees of students passing out of such colleges.

The Government of India wish to make it very clear that no lowering of standards of under-graduate medical education will be allowed and it will serve very little purpose for students who obtain degrees from such colleges to complain later that their degrees have not been recognised. Students getting admission into such colleges do so at their own risk.

PRESS NOTE.

Imphal, the 24th November, 1956.

(7) The Court of Session shall record and consider any cause which may be shown by the person so directed and if it is satisfied that the accusation was false and either frivolous or vexatious, it may, for reasons to be recorded, direct that compensation to such amount, not exceeding one thousand rupees, as it may determine, be paid by such person to the accused or to each or any of them.

(8) All compensation awarded under sub-section (7) may be recovered as if it were a fine.

29. SUBSTITUTION OF NEW SECTIONS FOR SECTION 207 IN ACT V OF 1898.—For section 207 of the principal Act, the following sections shall be substituted, namely:—

207. Procedure in inquiries preparatory to commitment.—In every inquiry before a Magistrate where the case is triable exclusively by a Court of Session or High Court, or, in the opinion of the Magistrate, ought to be tried by such Court, the Magistrate shall,—

(a) in any proceeding instituted on a police report, follow the procedure specified in section 207 A ; and

(b) in any other proceeding, follow the procedure specified in the other provisions of this Chapter.

207A. Procedure to be adopted in proceedings instituted on police report.—(1) When, in any proceeding instituted on a police report, the Magistrate receives the report forwarded under section 173, he shall, for the purpose of holding an inquiry under this section, fix a date which shall be a date not later than fourteen days from the date of the receipt of the report, unless the Magistrate, for reasons to be recorded fixes any later date.

(2) If, at any time before such date, the officer conducting the prosecution applies to the Magistrate to issue a process to compel the attendance of any witness or the production of any document or thing, the Magistrate shall issue such process unless, for reasons to be recorded, he deems it unnecessary to do so.

(3) At the commencement of the inquiry, the Magistrate shall, when the accused appears or is brought before him, satisfy himself that the documents referred to in section 173 have been furnished to the accused and if he finds that the accused has not been furnished with such documents or any of them, he shall cause the same to be so furnished.

(4) The Magistrate shall then proceed to take the evidence of such persons, if any, as may be produced by the prosecution as witnesses to the actual commission of the offence alleged ; and if the Magistrate is of opinion that it is necessary in the interests of justice to take the evidence of any one or more of the other witnesses for the prosecution, he may take such evidence also.

(5) The accused shall be at liberty to cross-examine the witnesses examined under sub-section (4), and in such case, the prosecutor may re-examine them.

(6) When the evidence referred to in sub-section (4) has been taken and the Magistrate has considered all the documents referred to in section 173 and has, if necessary, examined the accused for the purpose of enabling him to explain any circumstances appearing in the evidence against him and given the prosecution and the accused an opportunity of being heard, such Magistrate shall, if he is of opinion that such evidence and documents disclose no grounds for committing the accused person for trial, record his reasons and discharge him, unless it appears to the Magistrate that such person should be tried before himself or some other Magistrate, in which case he shall proceed accordingly.

(7) When, upon such evidence being taken, such documents being considered, such examination (if any) being made and the prosecution and the accused being given an opportunity of being heard, the Magistrate is of opinion that the accused should be committed for trial, he shall frame a charge under his hand, declaring with what offence the accused is charged.

(8) As soon as such charge has been framed, it shall be read and explained to the accused and a copy thereof shall be given to him free of cost.

(9) The accused shall be required at once to give in, orally or in writing, a list of the persons, if any, whom he wishes to be summoned to give evidence on his trial.

Provided that the Magistrate may, in his discretion, allow the accused to give in his list or any further list of witnesses at a subsequent time ; and, where the accused is committed for trial before the High Court, nothing in this sub-section shall be deemed to preclude the accused from giving, at any time before his trial, to the Clerk of the State a further list of the persons whom he wishes to be summoned to give evidence on such trial.

(10) When the accused, on being required to give in a list under sub-section (9), has declined to do so, or when he has given in such list, the Magistrate may make an order committing the accused for trial by the High Court or the Court of Session, as the case may be, and shall also record briefly the reasons for such commitment.

(11) When the accused has given in any list of witnesses under sub-section (9) and has been committed for trial, the Magistrate shall summon the witnesses included in the list to appear before the Court to which the accused has been committed :

Provided that where the accused has been committed to the High Court, the Magistrate may, in his discretion leave such witnesses to be summoned by the Clerk of the State and such witnesses may be summoned accordingly :

Provided also that if the Magistrate thinks that any witness is included in the list for the purpose of vexation or delay or of defeating the ends of justice, the Magistrate may require the accused to satisfy him that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the evidence of such witness is material, and if he is not so satisfied, may refuse to summon the witness (recording his reasons for such refusal), or may before summoning him require such sum to be deposited as such Magistrate thinks necessary to defray the expense of obtaining the attendance of the witness and all other proper expenses.

(12) Witnesses for the prosecution, whose attendance before the Court of Session or High Court is necessary and who appear before the Magistrate, shall execute before him bonds binding themselves to be in attendance when called upon by the Court of Session or High Court to give evidence.

(13) If any witness refuses to attend before the Court of Session or High Court, or execute the bond above directed, the Magistrate may detain him in custody until he executes such bond or until his attendance at the Court of Session or High Court is required when the Magistrate shall send him in custody to the Court of Session or High Court as the case may be.

(14) When the accused is committed for trial, the Magistrate shall issue an order to such person as may be appointed by the State Government in this behalf, notifying the commitment, and stating the offence in the same form as the charge; and shall send the charge, the record of the inquiry and any weapon or other thing which is to be produced in evidence, to the Court of Session or where the commitment is made to the High Court, to the Clerk of the State or other officer appointed in this behalf by the High Court.

(15) When the commitment is made to the High Court and any part of the record is not in English, an English translation of such part shall be forwarded with the record.

(16) Until and during the trial, the Magistrate shall, subject to the provisions of this Code regarding the taking of bail, commit the accused by warrant to custody.

(2) If, upon consideration of all the documents referred to in section 173 and making such examination, if any, of the accused as the Magistrate thinks necessary and after giving the prosecution and the accused an opportunity of being heard, the Magistrate considers the charge against the accused to be groundless, he shall discharge him.

(3) If, upon such documents being considered, such examination, if any, being made and the prosecution and the accused being given an opportunity of being heard, the Magistrate is of opinion that there is ground for presuming that the accused has committed an offence triable under this Chapter, which such Magistrate is competent to try, and which, in his opinion, could be adequately punished by him, he shall frame in writing a charge against the accused.

(4) The charge shall then be read and explained to the accused and he shall be asked whether he is guilty or claims to be tried.

(5) If the accused pleads guilty, the Magistrate shall record the plea and may, in his discretion, convict him thereon.

Provided that the Magistrate may permit the cross-examination of any witness to be deferred until any other witness or witnesses have been examined, or recall any witness for further cross-examination.

(8) The accused shall then be called upon to enter upon his defence and produce his evidence ; and if the accused puts in any written statement, the Magistrate shall file with the record.

(9) If the accused after he has entered upon his defence, applies to the Magistrate to issue any process for compelling the attendance of any witness for the purpose of examination or cross-examination, or the production of any document or other thing, the Magistrate shall issue such process unless he considers that such application should be refused on the ground that it is made for the purpose of vexation or delay or for defeating the ends of justice. Such ground shall be recorded by him in writing :

Provided that, when the accused has cross-examined or had the opportunity of cross-examining any witness after the charge is framed, the attendance of such witness shall not be compelled under this section, unless the Magistrate is satisfied that it is necessary for the purposes of justice.

(10) The Magistrate may, before summoning any witness on such application under sub-section (9), require that his reasonable expenses incurred in attending for the purpose of the trial be deposited in court.

(11) If, in any case under this section in which a charge has been framed, the Magistrate finds the accused not guilty, he shall record an order of acquittal.

(12) Where in any case under this section, the Magistrate does not proceed in accordance with the provision of section 349 or section 562, he shall, if he finds the accused guilty, pass sentence upon according to law.

(13) In a case where a previous conviction is charged under the provisions of section 221, sub-section (7), and the accused does not admit that he has been previously convicted as alleged in the charge, the Magistrate may, after he has convicted the said accused under sub-section (5) or sub-section (12), take evidence in respect of the alleged previous conviction, and shall record a finding thereon."

40. SUBSTITUTION OF NEW SECTION FOR SECTION 272 IN ACT V OF 1898.—For section 272 of the principal Act, the following section shall be substituted, namely:—
